Local man to oppose Anderson in election

Clyde T. Mayberry of Appomattox has qualified to run as an independent candidate for the 59th District House of Delegates seat in the November general election.

Mayberry received word last week that his petitions, which were filed on the April 14 deadline, had been approved and that he was qualified to seek election.

Mayberry will oppose Claude Anderson, of Buckingham County, the incumbent delegate representing the 59th district.

The 59th district includes the counties of Appomattox, Amelia, Buckingham, Cumberland, and a portion of Prince Edward.

Mayberry, a lifetime resident of the 59th district, says he is "concerned about the serious effect that inflation, recession and high unemployment are having upon the family farm community, our senior citizens and the working middle class of rural Virginia."

He says he seeks "to become involved in a positive way by helping to solve the problems facing the district and helping to stop the tide of government abuse of our individual liberties, and to restore the power to the people that is guaranteed under Article I section 2 of the Constitution of Virginia."

Mayberry adds that he "wants to gives people a choice when they go to the polls, so that there will be more than one name on the ballot."

Noting that this is the first time he has ever sought public office, Mayberry says that he "wants to prove a point to myself: the average person, the working man, often thinks there is nothing he can do to affect the government, that you have to have money, you have to be very wealthy to run for office. I want to show that that isn't necessarily true."

Mayberry has worked in local industry, agriculture and in the insurance business. He says he is "familiar with the problems and aspirations of the citizens of the district."

He is a member of the Virginia Taxpayers Association, the Independent Virginians for Political Action organization and is the Central Virginia coordinator for the American Agriculture Movement of Virginia.

He is married to the former Cynthia Ferguson of Franklin County, and has two children, Clyde, age 11, and Kristy, age 8. He is a member of Friendship Baptist Church in Appomattox, and is a representative of A. L. Williams, a financial services marketing firm.

School lunch program outlined

Appomattox County Public Schools today outlined the policy for free and reduced-price meals for children unable to pay the full price for meals served under the National School Lunch Program.

Each school and the School Administration Office has a copy of the policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

The following household size and income criteria will be used for determining eligibility:

Household Size	Max. Household Income for Free Meal	Max. Household Income for Reduced Price Meals
1	$ 4,310	$ 6,310- 9,981
2	5,802	8,503- 13,699
3	10,696	10,697- 15,287
4	12,590	12,871- 18,315
5	15,054	15,055- 21,423
6	17,238	17,239- 24,531
7	19,422	19,423- 27,639
8	21,606	21,607- 30,747
For each additional household member,add	2,184	3,108

Children from families whose income is at or below the household levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meal, households should fill out the application and return it to the school. Additional copies are available in the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or other program officials.

For the school officials to determine eligibility, the household must provide the following information listed on the application: names of all household members; social security numbers of all adults household members or a statement that the household member does not possess one; total household income; and the signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct. Households are required to report increases in household income of over $50 per month or $600 per year; and decreases in household size.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

Under the provisions of the free and reduced price policy, each school principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent or guardian is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If the parent wishes to make a formal appeal, he may make a request either orally or in writing to Richard B. Carter, P.O. Box 548, Appomattox, Virginia 24522, telephone (804) 352-8253 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedures.

If a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size changes, the family should contact the school. Such changes may make the child of the household eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a household has foster care children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals for them, the household must complete an application.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility and verifying data.

In question of child feeding programs administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, sex, national origin, age or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Father Darkleaf

By CALVIN ROBINSON

The dry summer has lowered moisture in topsoil and plants have suffered. So, I make a prediction that leaves on trees will begin turning and falling early.

• • •

In another week Virginia bright tobacco markets will be open. Brightleaf is of major importance and there is a carryover inventory, making prospects for the warehouse sales not too encouraging. Not too many bright tobacco growers in Appomattox County but they are experienced in all phases, from plant bed to the auctioneer and we wish them well.

An hour before approaching my typewriter, I drove through town and realized that in a matter of days school buses will be running. Then I wondered how many new teachers we will have. First year teachers? And what vacation experiences teachers and students will have to relate.

• • •

And a hope that there will be a break in the heat wave before the football squad has to do heavy uniforms. A scrimmage in 90 degree heat is a weight reducer. And does anyone have an ACHS schedule?

On TV saw a football game at famous Wembly stadium, England, between two U.S. teams who went over to try to interest our English brethren in our pasttime. Minnesota Vikings, St. Louis Cardinals. My guess is no big deal.

• • •

My friend, the Rev. O. G. Burnette is conducting a revival this week at Spring Hill Baptist Church, Ruckersville.

• • •

Farm ponds and creeks have helped during this dry spell. Any wells gone dry? What about hay for the winter?

• • •

Saw a car license: WHY followed by a number. I wondered about that.

• • •

So many opportunities. Read of a special golf tournament for left-handers only.

For real. A friend expressed fear that a lighted cigarette or match from a passing car might set someone's lawn on fire. Ah yes, in a dry spell, we are especially grateful for dew.

Thanks to friends who have brought us gifts from their gardens. Especially such nice tomatoes.

And thanks for reading. Seeya around.
